Thanks for responding to my call for Information Systems Board and Working Group members. I am pleased that all the Directorates recognize the Agency's need for improved information systems management and have fielded their best players.

My initial thinking on the Working Groups is that membership should be flexible, with players added or traded as issues or expertise warrants, and that the six groups will select their own additional members, chairpersons, and methods of operation. Since Directorates are not limited to just one member per group, you may want to consider additional representatives from a variety of components.

Each Board member will monitor at least one working group and I hope to assign volunteers for that duty at the first Board meeting, now scheduled for the week of 27 June. My staff will contact your representatives directly to arrange the specific times for the first Board and Working Group meetings.
